Bristol's more at home in a hoodie than in a sexy gown.

BACKSTAGE WITH BRISTOL!

At rehearsals for Dancing With the Stars, I chatted with Bristol Palin and her partner, Mark Ballas. She said the show hasn't been easy for her. "I've spent hours in the dance studio, and it's difficult balancing the show and my son, Tripp. Mentally and physically it's exhausting, but I'm making it work."

Before their rhumba, Bristol admitted she isn't used to wearing such a revealing, sexy outfit. I inquired if her father, Todd, was the one first asked to do DWTS. She said he declined because he was too busy. When I suggested her mom try the show, Bristol replied, "It would be hilarious to see either of them dance."

JAMIE'S HOT NEW ALBUM!

I caught up with Jamie Foxx for Extra at BET's 106 & Park 10th anniversary party in Hollywood. He said he's excited about his new record, Yep, That's Me, and told me Robert Downey Jr. is going to be in his next video. He joked that I could be in it, too — so I'll be following up on that one! Jamie's also set to work on a film, called The Skank Robbers, with Halle Berry and Martin Lawrence. "It's a Sheneneh-and-Wanda movie," Jamie said, "characters we played on In Living Color. It's gonna be hot."

"I like where I am," Jennifer said of her sleek new figure.

JENNIFER WANTS ONE MORE BABY

Jennifer Hudson and I talked for Extra while she was in Las Vegas, performing at an Andre Agassi Foundation for Education event. She looks amazing! (See story on page 42.) Jennifer said she's happy with her current weight and I asked her if she planned to lose more. "I do like change and seeing a difference each and every week, so we'll have to wait and see." I asked if her fiancé, David Otunga, is pleased with her new figure. She replied, "He's getting pleasantly adjusted. That answer won't get me in trouble!" The mom of 14-month-old David Jr. revealed she wants one more baby: "I want a girl so bad!"
